Reflections

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ:

Time apart, both physical and spiritual can bring proper perspective to the regular and the mundane. It can give the heart time to convert the head, allowing the whole person to benefit from intimations of the holy which have come our way in the course of doing the things that we normally do. This may involve going to a particular place where articulated prayer, reflection and meditation take place. It can also be as simple as grabbing a moment that conspires to capture our attention and allowing it to speak of God whose love desires our love. I have experienced such in sweet conversation with a loved one, or in the discordant tones of a Shostakovich Piano Concerto in the Cappella at St. Petersburg.

I have also been visited by the hint of the universal during such diverse activities as saying the rosary while exercising my dog in the park and making a Maundy Thursday pilgrimage to seven altars of repose, where we are invited to watch one hour with our Lord in His Blessed Sacrament. Regular Visitations to the Blessed Sacrament are glorious opportunities to integrate the comings and goings of daily life with the greater life of God. If we can begin to cultivate an intimation of the glorious possibilities offered for transformation and transfiguration before this marvelous gift which is ours as catholic Christians, the blessed sacrament of our Lord's Body and Blood set aside for adoration and the care of the faithful, it becomes easier to apprehend a hint of the possibility of all things being made whole in Christ Jesus.

From the Vestry: The Parish Needs You

St. Paul's has been a continuous beacon of light, faith, and love on the corner of Abercorn and 34th Streets for a long time. Our doors have been open every day of the week for masses and prayers. But we are facing the dilemma right now of having to make deep cuts in what we offer to our parishioners and our community because currently we are nearly $40,000 behind in our budget. If we cannot make up this shortfall before the end of the year, we will be faced with having to make cuts in personnel. If you are behind in your pledge, we ask you to please make it current. Some of you may be able to add something extra to your pledge to help us overcome our shortfall. St. Paul's has been right here for you in good times and bad. Right now, St. Paul's needs each and every one of you to be the rock upon which it stands. Please do what you can, after prayerful consideration, to keep our light shining in our community.
