Reflections

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ:

What a glorious day this past Sunday was. Not only the weather was beautiful but the whole tenor of the day was one of hope and light amid darkness and gloom. I particularly want to thank our Vestry for their work in putting together the Drive-In Stewardship Dinner. We have heard from many of you that it lifted your spirits, in addition to providing a great meal. It reminded a number of you the important role which the community which gathers under the patronage of St. Paul plays not only in your lives but that of the city and the neighborhood. It is your gifts which keeps the doors of this place open and it is your support that enables the many ministries formal and informal to reach out and bear witness to God's care and support for the surrounding community.

As I said in my Homily, by choosing St. Paul's, as the means of your engagement for the building of God's Kingdom, you are walking in a path which the world does not see as successful. Yet our community is built on the vision that God's Love is the healing balm for all wounds inflicted in the present world. Ours is an honest attempt to be Christ's hands and presence in our corner of the Vineyard. We have been blessed and fortunate to maintain our daily schedule of Morning Prayer, the Mass, and Evening Prayer. Granted most of you engage these offerings by way of the Internet at the present time, but we continue to bear witness through our worship of the One from whom "all things come". Because we broadcast on Facebook people from other parishes and those without a parish home are able to center part of their day in the loving embrace of Jesus witness which we extend through word and sacrament. Thank you for allowing me to continue to serve as your Parish Priest. I am blessed daily by your attempts to walk in the pilgrim's way.

It is always my hope and prayer that in all things we might grow in a deeper relationship with God and each other. While the present times have challenged us to think of new ways to continue to bear witness in the midst of a pandemic, the most important corroboration with the vision of God that we can pursue is to do Justice, love Mercy and walk Humbly with God and each other. Use Worship, God's word in Scripture and the Sacraments to conform each other to this Vision.
